

The Close Protection course runs over 16 days and consists of three units - Working in the Private Security Industry, Working as a Close Protection Operative and Conflict Management.

Close Protection training course covers an extremely broad range of skills from threat assessment, operational planning and reconnaissance, to vehicle techniques, search procedures and close protection teamwork.

The role of a Close Protection Operative or Bodyguard is as varied as it is challenging. Operatives can find themselves protecting celebrities, politicians, visiting dignitaries, diplomats, sports stars and even royalty. Close Protection operatives often need to deal with high pressure and sometimes dangerous situations which require in depth knowledge and training.
